Beautiful blooming witch hazel right now!

19:23:42 From margaretlchatham To Everyone:
I just finished reading The Treeline: the last forest and the future of life on Earth by Ben Rawlence – about the northern edge of forest around the world: beautiful book, great stuff, we're cooked, but still worth reading

19:23:43 From Kathleen Michels To Everyone:
Ohh we were just in Lancaster. PA ana Hawk Mtn Was it a specific park?

When is the newsletter coming out? Will there be a paper version?

19:29:23 From Dave Fearon To Everyone:
Great! Thanks, I love it!

19:29:33 From Maria To Everyone:
I read Robert Beverly's The History and Present State of Virginia from 1705 recently to try to find out what nature was like here before European settlers. I recommend it as a fairly interesting and surprisingly easy read.

Love insects. I find them fascinating.

19:39:45 From Maryland Native Plant Society To David Fulton-Howard(Privately):

Hi David, Lauren here. I have a request to enable "Meeting Summary with AI Companion" - it would require messing with admin meeting settings. I'm inclined to say "Not Now". Let me know if this is something you can do or if it is even a good idea.

19:46:18 From Meg MacDonald To Everyone:

How did your son "grow" parasitic wasps?

19:58:44 From David Fulton-Howard To Maryland Native Plant Society(Privately):

Replying to "Hi David, Lauren her..."

Just saw this. If you're okay with it, I can turn it on now. I found the setting

19:59:29 From Maryland Native Plant Society To David Fulton-Howard(Privately):

Replying to "Hi David, Lauren her..."

I don't know what I'm saying yes too. What do you advise?

20:01:07 From Patty McGrath, land of the Manahoac and Piscataway-Conoy peoples To Everyone:

It looks like your eggs were collected on leaves. Did you collect any eggs that were laid on bark? I had several patches of very tiny white eggs on the crevices in the locust tree bark. I had no idea if they were beneficial insects or invasives.....

20:02:04 From David Fulton-Howard To Maryland Native Plant Society(Privately):

Replying to "Hi David, Lauren her..."

It basically sends a summary of the content of the meeting to any participant who is logged in. Summary is compiled and sends after the meeting finishes

20:02:28 From David Fulton-Howard To Maryland Native Plant Society(Privately):

Replying to "Hi David, Lauren her..."

I actually don't know that it will be productive to do it this meeting, as it only starts summarizing when it's turned on

20:02:44 From David Fulton-Howard To Maryland Native Plant Society(Privately):

Replying to "Hi David, Lauren her..."

but I can enable the ability to start the summary

20:03:15 From Maryland Native Plant Society To David Fulton-Howard(Privately):

Replying to "Hi David, Lauren her..."

Let's not do it, I think we should ask the speaker if it is ok with them prior to the start of the meeting.

20:03:27 From David Fulton-Howard To Maryland Native Plant Society(Privately):

Replying to "Hi David, Lauren her..."

we probably want to make it so it doesn't auto-start, so that it doesn't summarize the meeting prep at the beginning

20:03:32 From David Fulton-Howard To Maryland Native Plant Society(Privately):

Replying to "Hi David, Lauren her..."

sounds good

20:03:50 From David Fulton-Howard To Maryland Native Plant Society(Privately):

Replying to "Hi David, Lauren her..."

i'll enable it tho... it has to be started per-meeting if it's not set to auto-start

20:04:07 From Maryland Native Plant Society To David Fulton-Howard(Privately):

Replying to "Hi David, Lauren her..."

Yes, please avoid the auto start
